Why Positive Tickets Needs YOU

Positive Tickets is a social investment; an investment in a community approach to building relationships. In order to create a more united community where the positive achievements of both marginalised and affluent young people are noted and encouraged, we require key community stakeholders – champions of the South West.

By offering your support for rewarding notable behaviour, you are providing the opportunity for young people to build recognition and self-esteem. The Positive Tickets team would appreciate your support and in return, help to bring even more awareness to your establishment. We have two great options available for sponsorship:

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITY #1

- Donate six vouchers of your choice which will be given to children over a six month period

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITY #2

- Donate twelve vouchers of your choice which will be given to children over a twelve month period

Why We Need Positive Tickets

Positive Tickets is designed to build positive relationships between police and young people in the South West.

The Crime Misconduct Commission has reported that both parties often have negative perceptions of the other.

The Positive Ticket program provides an opportunity for Police to be encouraging mentors to young people and recognise exemplary behaviours.

Positive Tickets aims to use positive interactions to reverse the perception young people often hold regarding the Police. How young people perceive Police will shape how they interact with law enforcement officers and their levels of confidence in the system. Similarly, how Police perceive young people will influence how they respond to youth-related incidents or manage particular situations where young people are involved. Read the sponsorship page of this brochure to find out how you can assist in building healthier relationships between Police and young people.
